Regulating The Bakeries.

Licensing and inspection of all bakehouses in this province form the main sections of a bill respecting the manufacture and sale of bread, which has been introduced in the legislature.

The act follows representations which a delegation of bakers made to the provincial government some months ago, when it was shown that there was need of fixing prices, on account of ruinous competition.

The act prescribes standards of weight for loaves of standard, fancy fruit, nut or small bread. Baking for sale, selling, advertising for sale, and offering for sale of bread otherwise than in accordance with the standards so prescribed, is prohibited.

Using any noxious, unwholesome, deleterious, or adulterant ingredients in the manufacturing of bread is strictly prohibited.

Go North, Young Man!

It may be that some natural law of compensation works in these things! Just at a time when Western Canada was beginning to accustom itself to the new viewpoint that it cannot grow wheat to its heart's content, along comes a new realization of its potentialities in another direction that fans the flame of its optimism.

The realization is, of course, that in the great pre-Cambrian areas sweeping northwest from the Ontario-Manitoba boundary lies wealth of mineral resources which, of itself, is sufficient to guarantee a great and glorious future for this western country. Development which began in the rock formations of Ontario and which later spread through the same strata in Central and Northern Manitoba, shortly will become manifest in Northern Saskatchewan. This eventually will compensate the prairie regions for the apparently finite glory of their wheat fields.

Youth has suffered as result of economic depression in these western provinces due to scarcity of employment and the narrow field of opportunity open to them in a period of financial stringency and industrial stagnation. Many have been unable to secure a foothold, and have now reached adulthood without attaining that independence without which the term is barren and comfortless. They feel circumstances over which they had no control, and concerning which they had no voice, have robbed them of a birthright—and they are looking to the political leaders for assurance their claims are not being ignored. It is occupation they seek, opportunity to take their place in the full, responsible citizenship of the country.

While agriculture will remain the great source of income of the prairie provinces, it is obvious that, under present world conditions, opportunities for youth in the path their pioneer fathers trod are singularly limited in scope and variety. Obviously then, the salvation lies elsewhere. Opportunities must be created—and created not only for the rising generation now clamoring for its place in the sun, but created also for a future influx of new population which is essential to the attainment of a balanced economic structure upon which future development of these provinces depends.

Immigration, at the moment, is an unpopular topic—and rightly so. Yet wider home markets must be created not only for the produce of the prairie farms, not only for consumers' goods from the industrial east, but also for the products of those countries of the world prepared to absorb our surplus agricultural production. Sooner or later, then, the problem of immigration must be tackled systematically and courageously. It will be necessary, therefore, to make intensive preparations that our own youth and our new neighbors may find employment and thus be enabled to contribute their share to the country's development.

Obviously, the one alternative to agriculture upon which Saskatchewan (particularly) has depended in the past, is a parallel development of other great primary resources of which the possibilities already are known. Saskatchewan (and we speak of Saskatchewan particularly because there the problem is acute) has abundant deposits of lignite coal, commercial clays, sodium sulphate and other non-metallic minerals throughout its prairie lands. Oil and gas, which have proved so valuable to Alberta, is being avidly sought in different sections of the province. But away to the northward lies this great pre-Cambrian shield, world's greatest storehouse of previous metals. Its resource too are being tapped by prospector's pick and by diamond drill. Surely the rock formation from which Ontario is reaping plentiful harvest, surely the veins which have helped pilot Manitoba through the difficult years, can be exploited to Saskatchewan's advantage and made to yield their just proportion to the economic life of the province!

These thoughts are inspired by a recent statement relative to the Flin Flon mine which straddles the northern Saskatchewan-Manitoba boundary. There, an investment of $20,000,000 is producing an annual income of $7,000,000 and maintaining a community of some 4,500 persons. The major portion of the Flin Flon ore body rests in Saskatchewan, and it is only a matter of time when similar development must ensue in the confines of the latter province.

Reports from the Saskatchewan hinterland indicate abundance of mineral resources, and that they have not yet been brought into commercial production is nothing new in the history of mining. Even the great Flin Flon, discovered in 1915; remained undeveloped for a space of ten years thereafter, but, once the complexities of its ore were unravelled, development came quickly.

While agriculture has languished, mineral production in Canada has continued to advance. In 1933, Canadian mines produced $220,502,096 as against $191,228,225 in 1932—and the augurs for the future are extremely favorable. Here then lies a fallow field for the activities of forward-looking government and the energies of ambitious youth! Here lies the West's way out!

A Very Good Idea

The Prince of Wales, who knows a thing or two, was asked what he thought of civilization. He said it was a good idea and he thought it would be a good thing if some one would start it. Those who have an impression that civilization exists had better read over his sermon on the Mount, which furnishes a basis for civilization in the true.

Plenty Of Snow

If all the snow that blanketed Port Arthur, Ontario, between Oct. 15, 1933, and Feb. 28, 1934, were packed into cubes of one foot square and placed end to end there would be a band of snow around the world and enough for another quarter lap. Statisticians estimate the snowfall in Port Arthur during that period of 48 inches or nearly 4,000,000 tons.

A Tired, Worn Out Woman Can't Make a Happy Home

There is no happiness in the home when the mother is sick and worried by the never ending household duties. She gets run down and becomes nervous and irritable, has shortness of breath, faint and dizzy, can't sleep, and gets up in the morning feeling as tired as she went to bed, and is discouraged and discouraged.

Milburn's H. & N. Pills will soon convince women it is not necessary to suffer, as they build up the nervous system and bring back the former health and vigor.

Grim Battle For Life

Eskimos Marooned On Ice Floe For Month Before Being Rescued

Trapped on an ice floe in Amundsen gulf while attempting to cross the 150-mile stretch from their native village on the southern shore of Banks island to the mainland, half a dozen Eskimos fought a grim battle for life early this winter as they drifted up and down the gulf for a while month before they were finally able to land, when almost starved, at the Peace Point post on the Arctic coastline.

The story of the near tragedy was brought down from the Arctic by Patsy, Andrew and Jorgen Klengenberg and their partner, J. P. Lythgoe, who operates a string of three trading posts on Victoria and King William islands in the Arctic ocean. The four traders arrived in Edmonton on their way to Vancouver for a brief holiday before returning to their posts on the ice-locked islands which are the northernmost points upon which human beings, either native or white, live.

The three Klengenberg brothers, sons of the famous Capt. Charles Klengenberg, pioneer navigator and fur trader in the Arctic, who died in the summer of 1931 at Vancouver, were born in the Arctic and have been operating their father's string of trading posts. With the exception of their school days spent at Vancouver and brief visits "outside" every few years, they have spent their lives in the Arctic.

Lythgoe, their young friend and partner, went north with them for the first time from Vancouver three years ago.

DRIVES HIMSELF TO WORK AT 82

And Still Plays a Little Golf

How many of us, when we are 82, will be the equal in health and activity of the vigorous old Scottish engineer? In a letter he says:—"I arrived here from Scotland on the 7th April, 1910. I am over 82 years old. I drive my Ford car 40 miles over hills and dales to a factory, and can still play a little golf. I have taken the little dose of Kruschen Salts in my cup of coffee every morning for some years, and believe it is keeping me in good health and enabling me to keep on working at the factories as engineer."

Whether you are still in your 'teens or past your prime it is neither too early nor too late to start on the "little daily dose." Just a tiny, tasteless pinch of Kruschen Salts in your morning cup of tea or coffee. They ensure internal cleanliness, and keep the blood-stream pure. New and renewed blood is spent coursing to every fibre of your being. Rheumatism, headaches, indigestion and backache all pass you by.

Whole Wheat Rolls

1/2 cup milk
2 yeast cake
2 tablespoons lukewarm water
2 tablespoons Crown Brand Corn Syrup
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup flour
2 tablespoons Mazola
1 egg
1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour.
Scald milk and when lukewarm stir in the yeast dissolved in the warm water. Beat in the whole flour and let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Cut down the dough and let rise again until double in bulk, then cut down and roll out. Cut into biscuits with a round cutter about two and a half inches in diameter. Let the biscuits rise until light on an oiled pan and then bake in a hot oven, about 400 degrees, for twelve minutes or more. On taking the rolls from the oven brush over with Benson's Golden Syrup. Some cooks give a flavor to their whole wheat buns by adding a little grated lemon rind to their dough with the whole wheat flour. The above quantity makes 25 fair-sized rolls.

Goofus—I hear that old Moneybags was waylaid and killed last night.

Rufus—Is that so? Did the criminals get away with much money?

Goofus—No. The old man never carried more than a little small change around with him and so practically all he lost was his life.

World's Largest Telescope

Twenty Tons Of Glass Used In Making Large Lens

Twenty tons of molten glass, to form the world's largest telescopic "eye", were poured into a form at Corning, New York, recently, before a distinguished audience of scientists and thousands of laymen who taxed the hospitality of the famous glass works.

By nightfall the last ladle of brilliantly glowing glass was spread in the brick form which will stand for 10 months while the composition hardens. Ten hours were required to transfer the liquid glass from the furnace, where it has been heating since February 15, to the mould housed in a brick igloo.

If, as scientists anticipate, the 200-inch mirror emerges from the annealing tank flawless it some day will enable man to gaze into unfathomed depths of the great void beyond the earth. The astronomical vision if all steps of the experiment are as successful as those already taken will be increased 30 times in volume.

More than 36 per cent. of the houses in Scotland have only two rooms.

Use Ships As Prisons

When men in Spain mention the future that they have been on a cruise they may be met with suspicious glances. Some of Spain's new prisons are floating ones. Because of the overcrowded conditions of old prisons following enforcement of the new Vagrancy Act, the government has chartered a few ships and put the superfluous prisoners in them.

Ease Pain, Headache in Few Minutes

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN—When You Buy

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, etc. The fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN's quick relief, be sure the name Bayer is in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

WHY ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches bottom, it has started to disintegrate.

What it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence its fast action.

French Explorer Expects To Blaze New Trail Over Rockies With The Aid Of Five Tractors

The broad back of the Rocky Mountains where they roll from Redfern Lake to the head of the Stikine river in British Columbia, is due to be treading this summer.

C. E. Bédoux, French explorer, engineer and business man, plans to do it with an expedition equipped with five tractors.

Hitherto this area, far north of rail lines or highways, has been traversed by trappers and Indians, and then only on footpaths that they be men of heart and knowledge of the wilds. Aeroplanes have dived over it, and the map-maker has put it on paper, but mostly the mountains have stood unbroken.

It is gesture, this expedition of M. Bédoux, and an adventure. It has the spirit that makes men fly over oceans of ice, to leave it all uncharted and unchanged from what it was before it was known. The gesture in this case is not in bringing some new area to light; though much knowledge will undoubtedly be gained, but in the manner of the doing.

One of man's most sturdy inventions has been chosen, the tractor, designed to conquer unyielding places. The surface of the mountain areas will be torn and their valleys and peaks echo to the chug of a work-a-day machine. True, they will stand as indomitable as of yore when it is finished, and perhaps before the summer has passed may have fouted the effort; they may not consent to be steam-rolled without claiming a toll of human victims—and therein lies the adventure.

The tractors will tread where ways can be found, and otherwise will swing across canyons, or be postponed across rapid waters. The expedition will really go from Edmonton to Telegraph Creek, B.C., 1,100 miles, but the great test will be the way across the Rockies. Already a contract has been made with an airways company to help pick routes and lay caches of gasoline, and men are being sent out to cut trails in the lower levels of the early route.

The size of the party is not definitely announced, but Madame Bédoux will be along. She is the big game hunter, and plans to add British Columbia specimens to those she has brought down in many parts of the world. M. Bédoux himself is primarily interested in exploration.

The five tractors will involve five drivers and two engineers to take care of them. Then there will be guides, horses, and men to drive them. For where the tractor cannot go, horses must help as cables are swung and the machines transported through the air. Included in the equipment will be a 450-pound hoist capable of lifting the 4,000-pound tractors. A rubber raft reinforced with logs will be used on rivers. Not only must mountains be crossed, but a way made over muskeg swamp.

The party should amount to a caravan of men, machinery and beasts when it sets out from Edmonton early in July to pursue its way to Fort St. John, B.C., and thence to Redfern.

For M. and Mme. Bédoux the expedition will be just the latest of many in various parts of the world. It was on a trip home from the South Seas that they learned of the adventure and big-game possibilities of British Columbia; and the Sahara in Africa, and various parts of Asia, have been ploughed by their tractors.

They both know British Columbia well. With a party which included 60 horses they staged a successful big-game hunt into the north of the province in 1932, getting as far as Redfern. In 1928 they hunted in more southern territory, that time with 37 horses to carry supplies.

Now the great broad back of a mountain range dares them and they have accepted the challenge.

Solicitor: "Oh, Mr. Newrick, I just came to ask for your description towards a cot for the new hospital."

Newrick: "A cot? Get a double bed and have it charged to me."

Farm Horse Prospects

Scarcity Of Horses In Canada Is Bound To Be Acute

There is today a very marked scarcity of big, sound, work horses, and owing to the slackening off in breeding, and the natural mortality in aged horses, the scarcity is bound to be acute during the next two years. From a breeding standpoint the industry is suffering greatly from a lack of high quality stallions of the draught breeds. Statistical returns indicate a decrease of stallions amounting to 8,000 head between the years 1930 to 1932, a situation which does not lend itself to a rapid increase in the horse population. Stallion owners report that the breeding season of 1933 was the most satisfactory experienced for some years, sires being used to an increased extent. The prospect for 1934, says the Agricultural Situation bulletin, is considered to be even more favourable.

Vegetable Gardener's Luck

Take A Little Precaution In Planting The Seeds

There is no trick in growing vegetables. Householders have been heard to say, "I have no luck with a garden," but failure is often traceable to carelessness. Very small seeds are buried, larger seeds are crowded together in the rows, weeds are allowed to smother the young tender plants, the seed-bed is hard and dry, drainage is bad, and a thousand and one other factors all of which are controllable, according to information from the Dominion Department of Agriculture. With regard to planting beans and peas should be 2 inches in the soil; beet, cucumber, muskmelon, parsnip, radish, spinach, squash, and turnip, one inch; sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, onion, pepper, and tomato, ½ inch; corn, 1 to 2 inches, and celery, ¼ inch.

Fortune In Paper Bag

A bedraggled old woman found lying on a sidewalk in San Francisco, Cal., clutching a paper bag in her hand, was taken to police headquarters, where it was discovered the paper bag contained $4,076 in bills. The woman said the money represented her life savings as a servant and that she was afraid of banks.

THERE'S YOUTHFUL CHARM ABOUT A BLOUSE

Plaided taffeta can be "tuck-in" or overblouse.

Paris, ready as she always is with remedies for sartorial difficulties, has designed this smart shirtwaist blouse to suit many figures. A tuck-in blouse is most flattering to youthful figures.

However, for women who are not exceedingly slim, it is apt to give a huddled-up look. This season, you can have your way about it. Wear it tuck-in or overblouse. The pattern provides for both. See we sketch for overblouse.

Striped necktie silk, plain crepe silk, handkerchief linen, cotton challis in necktie patterns, etc., are other nice mediums. It's simplicity itself to run it up on the sewing machine, and the saving is enormous.

Style No. 604 is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust.

Size 16 requires 1½ yards 35-inch material.

Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Combined Air And Ship Route Across The Atlantic To Be Put In Operation This Summer

Prospective Wheat Yield

Many Factors Apparent That May Seriously Affect Western Prospects

Several factors are apparent at the present time which may affect the prospective wheat yield this year. According to "The Agricultural Situation" bulletin, issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, drought over wide areas during the past five years has reduced reserve moisture, and favourable conditions will have to be experienced throughout the growing season to offset the effects of climate during the preceding seasons. Due to the emphasis being laid upon early seeding and the ploughing of stubble land before seeding for purpose of insect control some consequent reduction in acreage may be expected in the prairie provinces. Some reduction in average yield may be expected over large areas where grasshoppers and pale western cutworms will be present in outbreak numbers.

New Use For Honey

Manitoba Women Using Honey In The Place Of Sugar

Honey is "in the news" this spring in much the same way that tomatoes were last fall. When the Beekeepers' convention was held in Winnipeg the importance of honey to Manitoba house-wives was amply set forth.

Women in the country and in the city have proved that honey is a Manitoba product whose uses have only begun to be explored. Canning, preserving, pickling and baking are now being done with honey instead of sugar. Sugar, furthermore, has to be bought, but the honey can be home-produced.

A Useless Sacrifice

A resident of Bristol, Eng., was fined 10 shillings by a magistrate on a charge he used water for his gold-fish bowl during a recent water shortage. The accused admitted the charge but declared that he reduced his own baths during the period taking only two instead of the usual four so that his prized fish could have fresh water. Although he listened sympathetically to the story, the magistrate nevertheless ordered the fine paid.

Coal carts in England are being fitted with rubber tires.

A new combined air-and-ship route across the Atlantic, which will cut eight hours off the present crossing between Britain and Canada, will be put in operation this summer. This new trans-Atlantic mail service, combining the ship-to-shore method is being planned by a Canadian air transportation company, now being formed, and the British Imperial Airways.

A new route has been chosen by the Canadian and British companies, and the first stage will be by ship from England to Red Bay in the straits of Belle Isle, and thence by flying boat to Montreal.

The flying boats to be used for carrying the mail from ship to the mainland will be loaned to the Canadian company by the Imperial Airways.

It is estimated that the whole journey will occupy three or four days, as against four days at present, the best trans-Atlantic mail crossing so far achieved.

The prospect of a direct Atlantic crossing has been momentarily shadowed by the British aviation authorities because of the danger of achieving it has yet been constructed.

The present plan, however, is really intended to give the Imperial Airways a breathing space to plan a direct crossing, while in the meantime experiments are being carried out with sea-drones to have the long hop necessary for a direct crossing.

The appearance of a machine which would be capable of a direct Atlantic crossing with a load of mail is considered to be not far distant, and the England-Australia air race in October is expected to reveal an aeroplane which will go a long way towards filling the gap.

British air experts estimate that the machine which will win this race should be capable of a direct hop from England to Bagdad, a distance of 2,600 miles. A direct crossing of the Atlantic is only a little over 2,000 miles.

Demand Equals Supply

Prince George, B.C., Has No Bear Grease To Spare

The Canadian National Railways magazine says the Prince George, British Columbia, board of trade has notified its members that a Los Angeles man wants a regular supply of bear grease for hair tonic. He is not particular whether the grease comes from black, brown or grizzly bear. Then a resident of Prince George advertised in the Prince George Citizen: "You do not need to send your bear grease to California. Local market will absorb all you have." Possessors of bear grease are advised to hold their supplies for a rising market.

Something We Would Miss

Spring And Summer Would Be Queer Without Birds

Some morning soon the chorus will be full enough to waken you. Song will outdo the sun. As it grows from day to day, you'll hear in it a promise of freedom from the furnace-tending tasks of winter, of trudging through snow and slush, a promise of green fields and leafy trees, of flowers and vegetables and fruits, of the busy hum of nature and of long twilight evening. "How free to have the birds back; you'll say to yourself. Have you ever stopped to think what would happen if they didn't come back?"

Denial Of Nagging

BRITISH CLIMBERS START CLIMB OVER B.C. MOUNTAINS

An English party, comprising, bottom left to right, E. J. King, M.C., Sir Norman J. Watson, Wing Commander E. B. Beauman, R.A.F., and Clifford White, the latter of Banff, has set out from Vancouver to conquer the snowy altitudes of British Columbia's coast range. The unique part of the expedition is, these climbers are going to accomplish the difficult climb on skis. They are all noted for their prowess as mountain climbers, and it will be recalled that Beauman was a member of the expedition which conquered Mount Kamet, in the Himalayas, 28,400 feet, quite recently. Our top picture shows the type of British Columbia coast range over which the party will ski.

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

Canadian macaroni and vermicelli last year made an entrance into Holland for the first time.

The total number of milch cows reported in Canada for last year was 3,753,400, an increase of 27,900 over 1932.

The 1933 season's wool clip in Canada, including pulled wool from lamb pelts, has been well absorbed by the trade.

The economic welfare of Canada has for many years been affected more by her wheat crop than by any other single factor.

An increase in the number of milch cows in Canada has taken place in every province with the exception of Alberta and British Columbia.

The available information on the dairy situation in Canada would indicate that the total milk production during the present year will remain practically the same as in 1933.

Canada last year was Japan's ninth largest source of supply, and apart from Asiatic countries ranked fifth, but Canada, on the other hand, was only the 22nd best customer of Japan.

There is almost no demand in Canada for seed that is inferior to grade 2, and fully 85 per cent. of the demand is for seed that will grade No. 1 under the Seeds Act.—Dominion Seed Commissioner.

Over 43,000 more hogs were graded in Canada during the first ten weeks of this year than in the corresponding period of last year, namely, 657,811 in 1934; 614,887 in 1933.

Shipments of Canadian cattle to Great Britain for this year up to March 7 showed an increase of 2,633 head compared with the same period last year, the exact figures being 8,949 head in 1934 and 6,296 in 1933.

"Umbrella" Plane Tested

New Type Machine Travels 135 Miles

A new type "umbrella" airplane, which takes off with a 100-foot run and lands safely inside a 25-foot circle has been given successful tests at Curtiss-Wright airport, Chicago.

The plane has a 12-foot circular "sprung" instead of standard monoplane construction, with airfoam encircling almost half the circumference of the "umbrella." It is powered with a 125-horsepower motor.

In repeated tests the plane dropped to earth at a 60-degree angle at a speed slower than a parachute. It gained speed on the take-off at 700 feet a minute and reached an air-speed of 135 miles an hour.

Dwight Morrow, the test pilot, said the plane was more stable than standard types of aircraft and that a novice could be taught to fly it in a few days.

Statue To Be Dedicated

Little Journeys In Science

NITROGEN

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Nitrogen is an inessential element, because all life depends upon it. While this is true, it is also a fact that neither animals nor plants with the exception of certain families of bacteria, possess the power of taking nitrogen directly from the air, of which it comprises about four-fifths by volume.

Nitrogen occurs in the air uncombined with other gases and in enormous quantity. It has been calculated that there are 20,000,000 tons of nitrogen above each square mile of the earth's surface. Since there are 640 acres in a square mile, a farmer owning this amount of land may lay claim to nitrogen enough to supply necessary nitrogen compounds to the whole world for fifty years at the present rate of consumption.

The great abundance of free nitrogen is due to its inertness under ordinary conditions and to the further fact that many nitrogen compounds are more or less unstable and therefore tend to give up nitrogen to the air.

Nature cannot build a single cell without nitrogen. The marvelous properties of all living matter depend in part upon the presence of this element. Furthermore, it is an essential constituent of all commercial explosives such as gunpowder and trinitrotoluene (T. N. T.) as well as of valuable fertilizers such as Chile saltpetre and ammonium sulphate, also of nitric acid, ammonia, certain useful drugs and medicines, and dyes of lovely colors. In spite of its apparent inertness and lack of odor, color, or taste, all life would sicken and die if deprived of nitrogen or nitrogenous compounds. Bountiful harvests and vigorous growth of grass, flowers, and trees are obtained only when the soil contains proper nitrogenous fertilizers.

For industrial uses, nitrogen is obtained from liquid air. The chief use of nitrogen in industry is in the preparation of ammonia, which is the first step in the manufacture of important fertilizers. Some electric light bulbs are filled with the gas. Because of its inertness it does not attack the white-hot filament.

British Broadcasting Corporation Rules Out Boring Programmes

Wireless is installed in more homes in Britain than in any other European country. The British Broadcasting Corporation, subject as it is and must be to a great deal of criticism, is building up day by day a greater clientele. It shoulders a great responsibility, and one reason for its increasing hold upon its millions of listeners is its policy of ruling out objectionable features which have made broadcasting a bore in some other countries.—London Daily Herald.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE CHILD AND THE KINGDOM

Golden Text: "Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for to such belongeth the Kingdom of heaven." Matthew 19:14.

Lesson: Matthew 18:1-14; 19:13-15.
Devotional Reading: Luke 2:8-16.

Explanation and Comments

The Kingdom of Heaven is Entered by the Child-like, 18:1-4. In answer to the disciples' question, "Who, then, is greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?" Jesus called to him a little child (possibly Peter's, if they were in Peter's house at Capernaum at the time), and putting him in the midst of the disciples said, "Except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the Kingdom of Heaven." The double Greek negative in the last clause is most emphatic; far from being the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven, they were in danger of never even entering it. They must turn from their wrong ambition and jealousy, and become unpretentious, humble as little children. A child has no thought about greatness. "Jesus does not say that the child-like spirit is inherently better than the spirit of man. He does not promise that it shall possess or govern the Kingdom. He affirms only that it is the condition of entering the Kingdom. It is not that the child is better than the man, but that the child stands at the head of the disciples. It is not the step toward the Christian character. Docility, receptivity, open-mindedness, the eager, listening spirit of the little child, this is the polar opposite of the unteachable, satiated, closed heart of the Pharisee; and as the latter blocks the way to the Kingdom, so the former opens it. Better things than childhood has to offer are to be gained through the discipline and stress of life, yet entrance to the Kingdom is attained by no other than the unpolished, natural, spontaneous spirit of the child, and many a sophisticated and unteachable life will find a shock of surprise that it has lost the key" (Francis Greenwood Peabody).

"Though heaven and learning and riches great

Outside the gateway to God may wait,

Unchallenged may enter the un-

defiled

And open mind of a little child." (Rose Turnbull).

Whoever therefore shall humble himself as a little child, the same is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven.

Not Only For Books

Some People Need Law For Returning Borrowed Articles

The suggestion is made by an Englishman that the British government set aside a day or several days each year for the return of books that have been borrowed.

But why stop at books? Why not include lawnmowers, shovels and a host of other articles too numerous to mention? We venture to say that if a law were passed making it compulsory to return borrowed articles to their rightful owners, in a certain sense, every citizen would be such a wild scramble that a hectic session on the stock market would be a tame affair in comparison.

He said the United States Navy has reached a similar decision

WHEAT DEAL IS SUBJECT OF COMMONS DEBATE

Ottawa.—The federal treasury would lose "only a few millions" with $15,000,000 an outside estimate if John I. McFarland of Winnipeg suddenly liquidated his Dominion-backed wheat operations, the house was told by Premier R. B. Bennett.

The McFarland wheat operations entered the house debates when the government's unemployment bill was in committee stage, after passing second reading without division. The prime minister did not believe details of the transaction should be laid bare, including the extent of the Dominion's guarantee to the banks and the amount of wheat held. His views were echoed by members of both sides of the house in the belief disclosure might wreck wheat prices. But Hon. Ernest Lapointe took the ground parliament and the people should be fully informed.

Once again the Liberals registered their opposition to the "blank" cheque feature of the relief bill under which the government might take any steps to maintain "peace, order and good government" by order-in-council.

Fast-moving events made it necessary, replied the prime minister, that the government be equipped to deal with unforeseen eventualities "but there is no desire to act as usurpers or dictators."

C. E. Bothwell (Lib., Swift Current) said if parliament had been advised of all the facts there might have been better ways and means devised of handling the situation. At least, there would have been the benefit of advice from every organization in the wheat situation.

Any person interested in the wheat situation knew how much was being said, said John Vallance (Lib., South Battleford), but it was not known who held it. As a producer he felt that the publication of such information could do no good and might do an injury.

W. R. Motherwell (Lib., Melville) suggested that the least the government might have done was to secure an accounting from Mr. McFarland at the end of every crop year to show what had been done.

Mr. Vallance observed that, in his wide travels throughout the prairie districts, he had never been asked about the deal nor had he known any wheat growers who show the slightest curiosity with respect to it. He felt he should make that observation in fairness to the government which he was not usually disposed to support.

Supreme Court To Decide

Will Give Ruling On Powers Of Tariff Board

Ottawa.—The supreme court of Canada will be asked by reference from the Dominion government, to decide the powers of the tariff board with respect to its authority to determine questions of law, whether the rulings of the board with respect to duty values are subject to the approval of the minister of national revenue, and whether certain duty valuations by the minister, can be annulled by action of the tariff board.

This was announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, who tabled an order-in-council authorizing the government to take this action.

Employment Assurance

Chicago.—A $1,000,000 plan of "employment assurance" was voted by the directors and stockholders of the William Wrigley, Jr., Company at the annual meeting. The plan, as explained by Philip K. Wrigley, president, provides for payment of a percentage of the average wage to any employee laid off by the factory.

Fruit From South Africa

Improved Showing

Report Of Canadian National Railways Indicates Upward Trend

Ottawa.—In spite of adverse conditions, the Canadian National Railways system made a slightly improved showing during 1933, as compared with the preceding year.

The annual report, tabled in the House of Commons by Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals, indicates an improvement in the 1933 deficit of $1,103,118.

Railway operating revenues were $18,519,742, and expenses $14,212,512, leaving a net operating revenue of $5,807,188.

Fixed charges, interest on the funded debt held by the public, taxes and other debts, however, resulted in a cash deficit for the year of $8,935,388.

The report is the first under the new system with a board of trustees, headed by Chairman C. P. Fullerton, in the saddle. Consequently the report was made to the new board, and transmitted by it to the minister for tabling in parliament.

While S. J. Hungerford, president, declares depressed business conditions were in evidence, an improvement was felt during the latter half of 1933. This was not, however, sufficiently pronounced to counteract the earlier decreases.

"The depth of the economic depression," he states, may be gauged by the fact that the gross revenues of the system in 1933 were $18,519,742, less than those of the year 1928. The operating expenses were $14,212,512 below the 1928 total."

Seeking Opinion Of Canadian Business Men

Chamber Of Commerce Announces Poll On Marketing Act

Montreal.—Wendell McLeod Clarke, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, announced a poll of every board of trade and chamber of commerce in Canada would be held to determine what these bodies think of the Natural Products Marketing Act introduced in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

"The Canadian Chamber of Commerce is much interested in the bill," he said. "We are opposed to the mixing of the government in business and we are watching to see if the government will be involved in commerce in the new bill."

Unusual Insurance Policy

Offered In United States By Underwriters At Lloyd's

Chicago.—An insurance policy which would provide for any loss on investments in the event Franklin D. Roosevelt "ceased to be president" during the life of the contract has been offered in the United States by the underwriters at Lloyd's, London. One Chicago agency of Lloyd's quoted the Roosevelt insurance at $50 per $1,000. It was offered to members of the Chicago board of trade and to operators in the Chicago grain market.

Boer Leader Dies

Death Announced Of Former Leader Of South African Republic

Cape Town, South Africa.—The death of F. W. Reitz, 90, former president of the Orange Free State, removed the last survivor of the presidents of the former Boer republics in South Africa.

Reitz, as state secretary in the Transvaal just before the Boer war, penned the ultimatum to the British government which brought about the final rupture in October, 1899.

Seeding In Alberta

Military Appropriations

Germany Provides Large Grant For Nazi Storm Troopers

Berlin.—Large increases in military appropriations and a $100,000,000 grant to Nazi storm troopers feature the 1934 German budget, which was balanced at 6,458,281,000 marks—about $2,584,000,000 currently.

Another outstanding item authorizes the finance minister to spend 100,000,000 marks (about $40,000,000) in guarantees for the promotion of Germany's export trade and to use up to 35,000,000 marks ($14,000,000) for "overcoming difficulties in the German shipping industry."

The storm troopers' subvention, the first made in a rich budget, was generally interpreted as indicating that this outspoken National Socialist party instrument is now regarded as an integral part of the vast government apparatus.

The appropriations, army and navy expenditures, and the considerably higher aviation budget raised the total 1934 accounting nearly 900,000,000 marks ($360,000,000) over last year.

To Remain In Antarctic

Admiral Byrd Prepared To Spend Eight Months In Little America

Little America, Antarctic.—Undaunted by the prospect of intense cold, darkness and the sudden storms of the long Antarctic "night," Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd prepared to spend eight months alone at a winter advance base 123 miles south of Little America.

His refuge until the end of October will be the tiny portable shack not much larger than required for elbow room. There he will study Antarctic meteorological phenomena by means of a battery of thermometers and smoke bombs.

Destroys Community Life

Elimination Of Local Retailers Through Mass Merchandising

Ottawa.—Rumblings of a combine in the rubber trade will be brought to a head with the appearance of Rubber association representatives, following the Easter recess, before the parliamentary mass buying probe. Intention to call these representatives before the inquiry committee was announced by Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman.

The case of the retail associations closed with charges of destruction of community life by elimination of local retailers through mass merchandising and unfair trading practices of large department and chain stores. The Quebec provincial board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, through its secretary, Rosario Messier, made the allegations. From 699 in 1926, chain store units in Quebec had grown to a total of 1,692 in 1930. Of retail sales approximately $675,000,000 in 1930, mail order houses, department and chain stores had transacted $175,000,000 of the business.

To meet the situation created by these "monopolizing organizations," Mr. Messier proposed:

Establishment of industrial and commercial codes for the regulation of competition so as to prevent such practices as fraudulent bankruptcy, false advertising and "loss leaders."

Imposition of a $5 tax on every mail order catalogue.

Placing of a scale tax on chain stores.

Drastic Measures

To Put Teeth In International Wheat Pact

London.—A final report on a series of drastic measures to put teeth in the international wheat pact was completed by a committee of experts in preparation for a conference opening in Rome.

Export control measures, minimum price schemes, and methods of increasing consumption and multiplying the depressing effect of subsidies are features of the 5,000-word document.

Their findings and suggestions will form the basis of debate during the coming party regarding the ways to insure benefit from a wheat agreement signed in London last year by representatives of 21 nations.

So thorough has been the study of all aspects of these measures that many of the delegates from a dozen countries who attended a week of conferences here feel that no nation can plead for more time on the grounds that a further investigation is necessary.

Against Sale Of Beer With Meals

Vancouver.—Sale of beer and light wines with meals in restaurants and hotels will not be considered by the British Columbia legislature during the present session, it was indicated in a telegram from Premier T. D. Pattullo to the Restaurant and Cafe Proprietors' Association of Vancouver.

SAYS CANADIAN BANKS DO NOT RESTRICT CREDIT

Ottawa.—Canada has no need of a reconstruction finance corporation to stimulate credit, the banking committee of the House of Commons was advised by Jackson Fyde, general manager of the Bank of Montreal.

The chartered banks of the country have not restricted credit during the depression but, on the contrary, have sought outlets for the vast sums of money accumulating in their vaults. The tall, gray-haired banker said. Never since the boom bubble burst in 1929 have the banks contracted credit—they have gone out of their way looking for safe loans but have been hampered by the slow tempo of business.

For five hours the Bank of Montreal official entered a general defence of the tactics of the banks during the depression.

He called attention to their warnings in 1927, 1928 and 1929 against over-speculation and expansion as "a voice in the wilderness" and submitted that following "collapse of the boom" they have shown a reasonable and helpful attitude towards borrowers generally, notwithstanding any specific instances to the contrary.

At the same time, Mr. Fyde protested against provincial legislation which he believed had the effect of damming credit.

Cabinet Interviewed On Pensions Question

Veteran Officials Ask Federal Government To State Stand

Ottawa.—A positive declaration from the government as to its intention in regard to the security of pensioners and maintenance of basic rates of pension, including hospital allowances, was sought when Brigadier-General Alex Ross, C.M.G., of Yorkton, Sask., Dominion Legion president, and other veterans officials, interviewed Prime Minister Bennett and his cabinet.

The veterans' leaders also urged a re-organization of the Canadian pension commission in such a manner as to "remove any suggestion that it is dominated by personnel of the old board of pension commissioners."

More pensions were not being asked, General Ross emphasized. "We are only asking that, as far as it is humanly possible, applicants for pension shall be satisfied of the fairness of the commission adjudicating upon their claims, and that they have had a fair hearing."

Increased Employment

Greatest Improvement In Ontario, With Decline In Prairie Provinces

Ottawa.—An increase of almost 12,000 persons was shown in the number of employed on March 1 as compared with Feb. 1, according to a report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. Reports from 8,499 employers show staffs increased from 849,056 on Feb. 1, to 861,044 on March 1.

The records of the last 13 years show the average change in employment between Feb. 1 and March 1 is a small increase, gains in seven of the years since 1920 rather more than offsetting losses in the remaining six.

The trend of employment was upward in four of the five economic areas, only the prairie provinces showing a decline compared with Feb. 1; the greatest improvement was in Ontario.

Reduces Hours Of Work

Victoria.—Maximum hours of work are cut from 56 to 48 hours a week under the new "hours of work" bill given second reading in the British Columbia legislature. The measure also broadens the scope of regulations to include practically all industries and occupations. The former act was more restricted in its application.

Canada's Proud Record.

Information recently secured from the prize winners at the International Hay and Grain Show, held in Chicago in December last, reveals the striking fact that in the hard red spring class, the most important class in the Show, all of the prizes were won with varieties of wheat originated and developed by the Dominion Experimental Farms. There were thirty-five awards in all. Twenty-eight exhibitors won, with Reward, six with Marquis and one with Garnet. Thus is Canada's proud record of grain exhibition successes maintained, and it is noteworthy, indeed, that the Dominion Experimental Farms have contributed so materially towards this outstanding triumph.

Editor of the Weekly Knows.

The editor of the Witness, published at Waukegan, a town northeast of Edmonton, was recently hauled over the coals for using the word "hell" in some of his articles.

The Editor replied with a very able editorial which, sparkling with wit and humor and at the same time indicated that the Editor was in a position to know just when and where the word "hell" should be used. The editorial referred to closes with the following:

"It has been a pleasure to write of this, on a subject on which we are so well informed. If you don't believe the editor of a country weekly knows all about 'hell,' try it sometime—we mean try running the newspaper."

Editors of weeklies everywhere will heartily endorse this constructive suggestion.

Mr. Howson Wants to Know.

In the Alberta Legislature on Tues. March 28, Mr. Howson proposed the following motion (seconded by Mr. Bowen): That an Order of the Assembly do issue for a return showing:

- 1—A copy of the file in each case where an offence was reported by the Police to the various departments of the Government in 1930, 1931-2-3 which was not followed by a prosecution.
- 2—A copy of the file in each case in those years where a prosecution for an offence was commenced and was stopped during the course of the proceedings.
- 3—A copy of the file in each case in those years where a conviction was registered and a fine imposed and the fine remitted in whole or in part.
- 4—A copy of the file in each case in those years where a conviction was recorded and a period of imprisonment directed and in which the term, in whole or in part, was not served in accordance with the conviction.

A total of 14,843 vacationists sailed aboard Duchess of Atholl and Duchess of Bedford on short trips from New York to Quebec and Montreal in the past 2 summers. These trips will be repeated this summer by the Duchess of Richmond, the first trip from New York in July.

Ten thousand children were carried in C.P.R. liners in 1933, ranging from infancy to 10 years of age. ### SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the gossip, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Bowman and Weeks, an advertising agency, where Camilla has submitted some of her work, send for her and tell her they have a new account which requires unusual treatment of juvenile art. The critics were enthusiastic about her work, and Mr. Weeks offers her a salary of $50.00 a week to start and a prospect of having it doubled. She tells Peter of her good fortune in securing employment, but Hoyt is also informed that Camilla has obtained work and is going to leave the Hoyt household. Avis Werth rents a studio on the same floor as Peter, and invites him to have lunch there. He accepts reluctantly, but is favorably impressed with his visit.

(Now Go On With The Story)
CHAPTER XXXVII

"All that has nothing to do with your problem, Peter," Camilla changed the subject abruptly. "Right now, what you need isn't more work, but more time and freedom from anxiety. I can take care of both of us now, and I am going to do it until you get established in your own work."

Peter rose hastily to his feet, almost upsetting Camilla with his sudden movement.

"Not much, you're not!" he snorted with anger and disgust. His voice sounded cold, so that it chilled Camilla to the bone, at the same time his eyes blazed fire. She never would have believed that Peter—her gentle, adoring, amiable Peter—could be so angry with her. And over nothing at all. She was experiencing what every woman does sooner or later after marriage—the revelation of some fault or ignominious characteristic in the man she loves, and which she has not dreamed he possessed.

Her surprise at his reaction, silenced her for a few moments, while Peter stood and gazed sullenly out the window. Finally, he turned, and said, "But, Peter, won't you be reasonable? Is there any sense in your expending odd work to pay your expenses when you are so rushed for time on your important work, when I can just as well help you?"

He waited around to face her and demanded slowly, as if he measured his words, "Was that in our contract? You ought to know—you drew it up!"

She attempted to laugh, as if this first quarrel must be a joke and they were only acting. "Oh, there were so many clauses in that silly contract that it would take a lawyer to remember them."

"Now you think it was a silly contract, do you? Well, get this! When I agree to do a thing, I do it. I'm no quitter! I suppose you are even sorry you married me, now. I don't blame you, and you can break the whole contract any time you want to."

Like all quarrels, every word aggravated new unreasonable. In Peter's overwrought state of mind, his chagrin at his poverty, and his unrecognized jealousy of Camilla, his reasoning was paralyzed.

"Camilla gasped helplessly. 'Why, Peter! Please, don't talk like that. You must be ill. You are ill—you are working and worrying too much. You have to let me help you.'"

"Don't say that again!" he commanded angrily. "That shows what you think I am—a weakling. Just because you got started ahead of me, you're laughing at me—or feeling sorry for me, and that's all the same. If you think I like it that people will soon be telling me how proud I should be of my wife, you're dead wrong. There's nothing in the world I despise and dread more than living on the income of a wife who is more successful than her husband. I won't do that, even if I never do any better than I am now."

He had to stop for breath. But even that trade did not anger Camilla. It only hurt her cruelly, caused little shivers of pain to tremble through her, radiating from her heart, where a great heavy hurt throbbled and ached.

"But you are doing splendidly, dear Peter. It is just that your work takes more time to develop. You really are doing so much more than

I am, and it will be worth much more in the end, too. But you can't starve while you wait for the results!"

"I won't starve. I never have. And don't offer me your charity!"

"Why, Peter," she pleaded, "I was not offering you anything. What I have, is yours. And if anything I have can help with your future, I am doing it just as much for myself as for you, don't you see? Can't I invest my money in our future?"

"No, I don't see it that way and never will. You refused to let me take care of you and now you expect me to depend on you."

"But that's different. If you had to take care of me, it would hurt your work. I can help you because of my work."

"Which is exactly the whole thing. You don't need to remind me of it." Camilla sighed helplessly. Words were useless in Peter's present mood. She never had seen him like that and didn't know what to say or do. Presently, she got up from her chair swiftly and went over to put her arms around him and rest against him like a hurt, bewildered child.

"All right, darling. Let's not talk about it any more. I'm sorry—I suggested—anything. I want you to do whatever makes you happy."

"Happy!" he scoffed.

She drew back and looked up into his face quickly. His eyes wavered and turned aside without meeting hers, stubbornly. In her arms, she felt his big body rigid, unyielding, and he seemed to try to draw away from her. Camilla's thoughts floundered desperately, but she could think of nothing to say. She just dropped her head on his broad, linen-covered breast and tightened her arms around him. His arms hung listlessly at his sides, as if he were powerless to move them.

Finally, she said softly, without looking up at him, "Peter, don't you love me?"

He moved impatiently and drew away from her. "Of course. You know I do. That only makes it worse."

It was as if he had plunged a knife into her breast before, and now he gave it a quick twist to increase her pain.

"Makes what worse?" she asked weakly.

"Why, if I didn't love you and had no pride—that is, if I hadn't the two greatest things in life—I would think it was pretty soft to have a wife who could make enough for both of us, as some fellows do."

"I think you are making a mountain out of a sand pile," her own resentment began to rise, "but I have told you I would say no more about it. Forget it, and let's go out for dinner somewhere."

"What with?" I can't buy dinner for two with fifty cents. I get paid tomorrow, but that doesn't help me today. Besides, I owe more of what is coming to me."

She would have said, blithely, had they not just quarrelled over that very thing. "Well, come along. I have money," but she dared not venture that suggestion now. Or she might have proposed that they go back to her apartment and have dinner. There was plenty of food in the little iceless refrigerator. But that would be like pouring hot oil on his wounds of false pride.

But was it false pride, she asked herself anxiously, and had to admit that it was not, to a certain extent. She was proud of Peter—that he possessed much pride, even if he did exaggerate its maintenance under these particular circumstances.

THAT DEPRESSED FEELING IS LARGELY LIVER

Wake up your Liver Bile
—Without Calomel

You are "feeling punk" simply because your liver isn't pouring its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. Digestion and elimination are both hampered, and your entire system is being poisoned.

What you need is a liver stimulant. Something that goes farther than salts, mineral water, laxative candy or claretic gum or enemas which only move the bowels—ignoring the real cause of trouble, your liver.

Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. Purely vegetable. No harsh calomel (mercury). Safe. Sure. Ask for them by name. Refuse substitutes. Size at all druggists.

It takes a strong man to resist an invitation to make a speech.

Farmers Getting Tired

Not for many years has there been such a rush of spring sales in the district, says Athabasca Echo. After 4 years of ruinous prices, many farmers are tired of "the game." It seems significant that the name of the first farmer to lead the van was Slaughter. That, perhaps, may best describe the sales which follow.

Back to Homestead Days.

It has been estimated that somewhere in the neighborhood of 12,000 Alberta families have discontinued their telephones in the past three years. An exchange remarks that rural communities must be going back to the good old "moccasin" telegraph.

The Voice which was Heard Around the World.

Speaking of power, it's not every day that a 50-watt radio station is heard 10,000 miles away. Nevertheless, one of the General Motors hockey broadcasts was heard in Wellington, New Zealand, a few weeks ago and the surprised listener heard the presence of mind to note the station signature. Strangely enough, the broadcast was coming from CHML, Hamilton, which has power of only 50 watts. The listener, who heard Foster Hewitt's voice, was Kevin Sheahan. He says he heard the game clearly but faintly. This is just another instance of the popular General Motors Broadcasts being heard thousands of miles away from the Canadian network which carries this feature each Saturday evening.

Regulating Highway Traffic.

The Dept. of Public Works has issued a warning that the annual spring restrictions on heavy traffic on certain highways will likely be put into effect this week. These restrictions will be necessary chiefly in Edmonton district, where it may be required to close entirely some sections of the highways to heavy traffic, and to reduce heavy loading on others.
